

Dear Parents and Carers,

This week has been about pupil leadership at Woodlands. We have established our two key leadership teams of pupils: School Council and Learning Ambassadors. They will help ensure that Woodlands goes from strength to strength. A special congratulations to our new Head and Deputy Head children who applied for their roles during lockdown. I look forward to hearing the team's ideas and plans for the future.

We also have a new team of A Star Sheriffs who will help us learn about road safety and active sustainable travel.

- Ashante G
- Cole Y
- Evie H
- Alex H

They have been trained by Mrs Rich this week and are launching 'Autumn Walks to School' which begins on Monday and lasts for three weeks. Every class has a poster and children can add their name everyday if they travel to school in the following ways:

Walking, Cycling, Scooting, Park and Stride ( minimum of 5 minute walk to school), 5 minute Walk Zone

If any child completes all fifteen days then they will be awarded a certificate from the sheriffs. A good excuse to get fit!

Next week, we shall celebrate Harvest in school and donate food goods to the local food bank. Never have food banks been so important. Please send food donations into school at the beginning of the week so we can create a harvest display.

A brisk walk is the plan for this weekend to clear those cobwebs away, Mrs Newton

Photographer in school

All children will have their photograph taken so that you can purchase a portrait of your superstar/s. This year, I am afraid we will not be able to offer the usual sibling photographs due to constraints on mixing bubbles. We are also restricted by the length of lunchtime in the hall so the dates may alter for your child as we move through the sessions. We shall send a text to the year group the day before to confirm when your child's photograph will be taken. More dates will be added if needed

Head Injuries in School

Children running and playing on the playground can result in knocks and bumps, including to the head. Head injuries are concerning because we can't see the injury on the inside and because of the dangers of concussion.

We have recently reviewed our practice in school to ensure we take all necessary precautions. This means parents and carers will receive a phone call if your child has had a bump to the head, even if minor. The member of staff will describe what has happened, how your child is and what injury can be seen at that point in time.

Parents and carers may want to come up to school and check their child or bring some calpol. If the bump was quite substantial then we shall ask you to come and take your child home, however if we believe it was only a slight bump then we shall continue to monitor your child in school. A blue head bump letter will also be sent home with your child, in case we haven't been able to make contact by phone.

A head injury can worsen over time and so we ask parents to continue carefully monitoring their child when they come home. If you are at all concerned then please contact your GP, ring 111 or visit your local A&E department.
